PRESS RELEASE

A Clarion Call: Thursday, February 27th Nationwide Community Prayer Service for Black Empowerment

[OAKLAND]—The Black Wall Street USA national office encourages Worship Leaders and Congregations to partner with us in a powerful movement of faith and unity by opening their churches for a one-hour Ecumenical Community Prayer Service on Thursday, February 27th.

In these times, our communities need prayer more than ever. This is an opportunity for churches across our city to come together in spirit, lifting up prayers for our neighborhoods, our nation, and our world.

How to Participate:

Leaders should open church houses for one hour on Thursday, February 27th for a community prayer gathering. Invite members of the congregation and the wider community to join in prayer. Focus on unity, peace, healing, and hope for all.

By standing together in faith, we can make a lasting impact. Let's unite as one body in Christ to seek His guidance and blessings. If your church is willing to participate or if you have any questions, please reach out to trumpetscall@blackwallstreet.org.

We look forward to praying together as one community!

About Black Wall Street USA:

The Black Wall Street USA Movement is only about God, our Ancestors, and Future Generations. Black Wall Street districts are established in the Spirit of the historical Greenwood community of Tulsa.
